

CONFIRMED MODERATOR

Dr Nelson Ogunshakin, OBE

October 3, 2017 – Jakarta Indonesia

Nelson Ogunshakin is the President & Chief Executive of the Association for Consultancy and Engineering (ACE). He is a Civil Engineering graduate and holds MSC in Construction Management and MBA in strategic planning and corporate finances, with over 30 years corporate & project experience gained in Europe, Africa, Middle East, Asia and North Americas. In 2010, Nelson was honored with an “Order of British Empire” (OBE) for services to the UK and the international construction and engineering industry. Core expertise includes business strategic planning, project finance, engineering design, capital project procurement and delivery, claims and dispute resolutions, M&A, corporate restructuring and change management within the infrastructure sector.

Attend

Plenary 8 – Effective Consulting Services to Support Resilient Infrastructure

REGISTER NOW!

Professional Highlights

Board Member of Transport for London (TfL; £10billion annual turnover),

Deputy Chair of TfL’s Programme and Investment Committee (projects above £30million),

Chairman of Investment Committee of ARM-Harith Infrastructure Investment Limited,

Adjunct Professor at Imperial Business School.

Publications and Awards

- ▲ Honorary doctorate from alma matter, Aston University (2011).
- ▲ Trade Association Forum (TAF) 2013 Leadership Award.

Testimonial

“The FIDIC Conference will be a fantastic opportunity for business leaders to contribute to the debate on global market drivers, share experiences and form a strategic link with potential partners”.